

zero moon (s-seis 2000)

four-zero-moon shines on main-street web-cams scan the night no-one is outside two-zero-nine signal's switching sober satellites go through weather-files and on the scrap-yard these nice old things there oh - how I wish to make them happy

I want to change the world right now when I lay in my room feeling naive and all the stars are shining bright what do they stand for a motion flashes into a doorway a bottle hits a stair like stars fall through the air street-sweepers watching the sunrise blinking traffic-lights no matter if it rains and in this backyard waits an umbrella but who could dance Gene Kelly`s hymn now
